

CITY ITEMS.

THE HUNGARIANS.—Agreeably to the previous announcement, our distinguished visitors yesterday received their friends and citizens generally, in the Governor's Room in the City Hall. At an early hour, the avenues of the building began to be filled by constant crowds, whose impatience visibly increased as more drew nearer. By a little after the third, the throng had congregated in a dense and quite imperceptible mass at the door of the Governor's Room, upon the landings of the stairways, and through the entire area of the rotunda; a number of ladies were also present. Shortly after the appointed time, the doors opened, and the concourse joined in at the expense of much damaged brocade and soiled dresses with不出.

Acting Mayor KELLY and his associates of the Common Council advanced to greet the visitors, and performed the ceremonies of introduction. Gov. ULYSSES addressed the visitors in a brief and complimentary speech, which was afterward interpreted into English, for those not learned in Magyar. The tenor of the Governor's remarks was as follows: He said that those who had always lived, like the esteemed concourse before him, under the blessings of Liberty and Free Institutions, could not imagine the thrill of joy conveyed to his own heart and to those for whom he spoke, by these testimonials of sympathy with the great movements for Freedom in the Old World. The study of our History, he remarked, was in his own country a stimulant to his People to attain what we now enjoy.

It was the bestiment to his wounded heart to be himself a witness here to the completeness and the perfections of that true Liberty whose attainment in his own land had been so rudely broken. Still, he observed, the name of America among his countrymen was yet, and will continue to be, an incentive to courageous deeds. The Governor expressed himself highly gratified, and desired to speak to all his friends not merely in conventionalities, but as individuals and as brethren. He was sensibly affected by the display of a highly interesting nature.

HOLIDAY GIFTS.—General Holiday gifts are generally the more acceptable when usefulness is combined with elegance. Those who are in pursuit of these will but once visit the extensive dry-goods establishment of Messrs. J. W. BAXTER & CO., 71 and 73 Catherine-street and view the most superb display of silks, silk and dress goods, at prices within the reach of all, it seems to us that they will at once combine the useful with the elegant in their purchases during this festive season.

ZOOLOGICAL HALL.—One of the most attractive places of amusement in this City is the great Menagerie in the Bowery. The collection of wild animals surpasses anything of the kind ever before exhibited, and the performances of the trained elephant, pony, and monkeys, as well as of the Honking Mr. Brocks, are of a highly interesting nature.

PICKLED OYSTERS AND BONED TURKEYS.—For New-Year's Day, are indispensably necessary.—Young Downing, 650 Broadway, should have your order to day.
